Investor Committee Opinions

Vc Partner

DuelIntel's innovative use of Large Language Models and Document Intelligence has the potential to disrupt the due diligence process, but I need to see more traction and a clear revenue model before investing.

Angel Investor

I love the idea of automating startup evaluation, but the lack of human oversight is a concern. I'd like to see more emphasis on mitigating human bias and ensuring the accuracy of the investment insights generated.

Growth Investor

The market score of 8 is promising, but the overall score of 20 and VERY HIGH risk level give me pause. I'd need to see significant improvements in the financial, team, and traction scores before considering an investment.

Conservative Investor

The VERY HIGH risk level and lack of clear revenue model make this investment too speculative for my taste. I'd recommend rejecting this opportunity until more concrete financials and traction are demonstrated.
