Investor Committee Opinions

Vc Partner

The lack of information about the startup's problem, solution, target market, and revenue model makes it extremely difficult to assess its potential. However, the VERY HIGH risk level and REJECT recommendation suggest that this startup is not ready for investment.

Angel Investor

As an early-stage investor, I'm accustomed to taking risks, but the complete absence of key strengths, market score, financial score, team score, and traction score raises too many red flags. I must concur with the REJECT recommendation.

Growth Investor

I'm looking for startups with proven traction and a clear path to scalability. Unfortunately, BIG DATA LAB's ZERO scores across all assessment categories indicate that it's not yet ready for growth investment. I agree with the REJECT recommendation.

Conservative Investor

Given the VERY HIGH risk level and the complete lack of information about the startup's business model, I strongly advise against investing in BIG DATA LAB. The REJECT recommendation is well-justified, and I see no reason to consider this startup for investment.
